

Home-Link is the new way of accessing Council and Housing Association properties across the Cambridge sub-region. From February 2008, available properties will be advertised every fortnight on our website and in a property magazine distributed across the sub-region. Applicants are asked to say which properties they are interested in (known as making a bid). The property will usually be let to the applicant who has been in the highest housing need for the longest time and who meets the advertising criteria. For more information, please visit our website (www.home-link.org.uk) or contact your local Council or Housing Association.
